POOL HALL SUGGESTED

City Council to Act in Matter

The meeting of the City Council Friday night the question of a franchise for a pool room for Barbourville was brought up for discussion. It is understood that there was a clean cut division of opinion as to the advisability of allowing the franchise.

This is a matter that has been agitated in every state in the Union and where the Anglo-Saxon predominates the general answer is NO.

In the State of Texas, pool rooms were even voted out of cities of 7,000 to 10,000 and the reason for such action was that they promote gambling and the gambling spirit in young boys and become headquarters for all who gamble.

Barbourville is a school town first and foremost and it is only in its infancy as such. It is to our interest to keep clear of all influences which may tend to corrupt the boys who come to us for their education. Moreover, there are certain boys who will take a chance and some of these would be sure to patronize the pool halls and then find themselves up against expulsion from the schools they might be attending.

We also have growing boys of our own who would frequent the pool halls and in whose minds the gambling spirit might be sown.

It has been shown, and that not infrequently, that the spurious check, or the forged check has had its beginning in the environment of the pool hall and ruin has been the result for many who otherwise might have become reputable citizens.

The pool hall is a paying investment so far as money is concerned, for the owners but we believe that is the only way it pays anybody.

We trust the City Council will veto the pool hall franchise as we are sure that if they do not do so the people will throw it out at an election.

Meantime citizens should express themselves to each City Councilman and ask him to vote against this franchise.

LYCEUM NUMBER PLEASES

Last Thursday night the Cosmopolitan Entertainment Concert Co. put on a pleasing and varied entertainment at Union College as part of the Lyceum Course of the season.

The young people were versatile in their hits. Miss B. L. Ewing did some pretty character sketches with her singing. Miss W. E. Elliott is fine on the violin and her playing was greatly enjoyed. Arnold Schroeder has a pleasing voice and is an able accompanist also.

The chapel was filled to capacity, showing that these entertainments are being enjoyed more and more as they progress.

TUESDAY CLUB

The Tuesday Club met Tuesday, January 6th at the home of Mrs. W. B. Minton on College Street, with Mrs. Fred Burman as hostess. Roll call was responded to with items on education. After a short business session the following program was given, Mrs. J. S. Miller acting as leader:

History of Barbourville Baptist Institute, Mrs. Ben Herndon.

History of Barbourville High School, Miss Bertha King.

History of Union College, Mrs. A. W. Hopper.

Schools and teachers, Mrs. Edward Faulkner.

This proved a most interesting program and much information was gained concerning our local institutions and their value as an asset to the town was clearly brought out.

After adjournment a series of progressive games was indulged in there being a different game at each of the five tables some of which the guests had not played for many years. Mrs. H. H. Owens won the prize. Refreshments were served at the card tables.

The guests of the afternoon were, Mrs. Lulu B. Smith, Mrs. R. B. Cramer, Mrs. J. A. Gray, Miss Fields, Miss Hawkins, Miss Carter, Miss Ross, Miss Beard.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our many thanks to our kind friends and neighbors around Girdler for their great love and kindness shown us during the death and burial of our mother, Nancy J. She leaves four children, a husband and a host of friends to mourn their loss but we feel assured that our great loss is her eternal gain.

KANSAS SETS EXAMPLE

In Kansas the State Administration found means for getting coal to the people. Now the legislature is considering a bill that will make strikes illegal. Under its terms a case may be brought before an industrial court upon the petition of ten citizens, altho the court can act on its own motion when trouble is known to be brewing. Individuals who refuse to work and become a part of an organized movement to stop production of food, fuel, and clothing would be liable to one year in prison and a heavy fine, and the officers of the union to a two year prison sentence and a fine of $1,000. Gov. Allen, of Kansas, is setting some examples in dealing with the labor problem that may well be followed by other states and by the Federal Government itself.

COLLEGES FALLING DOWN ON OPPORTUNITY

We have recently been told by several that they look for the news from the schools and colleges and been asked why they do not make more use of the Mountain Advocate in letting the county know what they are doing. We have no reply to make to this except that the Mountain Advocate stands ready to publish the news of the schools and colleges when it is handed in. They have an opportunity to advertise free, advertising, which if it had to be paid for would cost them considerable. We herewith serve notice on the schools and colleges that not only townspeople but the people thru the country are looking for news of the institutions which are educating their children and that our columns are open to them without charge. It is up to them to furnish the news which should be in by Tuesday of each week.

SEWING PARTY

On Friday afternoon, January 2d, Mrs. Walter Hudson gave a sewing party at her home on Knox Street, in honor of Miss Louise Clelland, of Parkville, Ky. who was the house guest of Mrs. Bassett Minton. The hostess was fortunate in securing the professional services of Madame Macaronisky who told the fortunes of the guests. After busily sewing for many minutes, luncheon was served in the dining room during which a kitchen contest was indulged in. Mrs. Sawyer Smith won the prize.

Covers were laid for the following:—Miss Louise Clelland, Mrs. Edward Faulkner, Mrs. A. M. Decker, Jr., Mrs. James S. Golden, Mrs. James Miles, Mrs. Bassett Minton, Mrs. Sawyer Smith and Madame Macaronisky.

D. W. SLUSHER STRICKEN

On Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock D. W. Slusher, the popular County Court Clerk, was stricken with an attack of some kind which caused him to lose consciousness while going down the west steps of the Court House. In falling he struck his head a severe blow, causing blood to run freely.

He was picked up by Messrs. J. R. Jones and Supt. E. B. Hemphill and carried into his office where he was attended by Drs. Logan and Burto. He had recovered consciousness by Wednesday morning and was able to speak and appears to be making satisfactory progress. So far as can be learned there is no paralysis.

OIL NEWS

John C. Main will start work on the Hampton lease, one mile south of town, this week. This property already has three wells on it, but owing to litigation, (now settled) it has never been run. No. 1 was a small producer, some 12 barrels, but No. 2 and 3 came in about 50 barrels a day.

The St. Louis Oil Co. drilling rig has arrived at Flat Lick to make a deep test on the Williamson lease near DeWitt. This property adjoins the Associated Producers leases.

J. R. Lawrence, of Georgia, an oil operator here and who has recently had pneumonia, is able to be up and around the lobby of the hotel where his friends are greeting him.

We carry oil leases for the use of oil men.

It is reliably reported that, barring mishap, the Associated Producers will be down to deep sand by the end of January.

Judging from the number of oil lease blanks we are selling Knox County is being rapidly taken up.

UNION COLLEGE NOTES

The Junior Academy class have elected their new Editor for this term. The Editor in Chief is Miss Ruby Gilbert who appointed as her associate editor Robert Blair. Be sure and watch for the College Notes each week.

Thursday morning Union opened the winter term of the school year with her daily routine of work. Nearly all the old students have returned and each of them is in the highest of spirits. The New Year brings us a large number of new students to all our departments. The Normal Department has started its course and has an unusually large number. Prof. D. M. Humfleet, the instructor, is enthusiastic over his department.

Everyone is surprised to see so much work completed on our new Gym. Only a few more weeks until it will be enclosed, then our "Eagles" are going to show some of their very best skill.

Miss Ross' brother from Maysville Ky., was here Sunday.

President Franklin is in Chicago on business.

Boone Smith, one of the College Freshmen, gave a Watch Party at his home on the night of December 31st. Twenty boys and girls were pleasantly entertained with music, games, candy making, cracking nuts and popping corn. The house was attractively decorated with ferns, pine and red and green crepe paper. Several of those present made resolutions and said they intended to "stick to 'em." Near the dead hour of midnight a lunch was served. Just after twelve, good-night was said and everyone left with a very light heart having had an exceptionally good time.

Mr. Phil Senter, a former student and now one of the faculty of Cumberland College, spent Friday in our class rooms renewing old friendships.

Mr. Harrison Large, '11, visited friends on the Campus last Thursday. He is hard at work as a state organizer of rural Y. M. C. A. work in Ohio.

One of the traveling libraries has been placed in Speed-Stevenson Library and is now open to the use of students and towns people as well. The books include a large number of volumes of fiction and a few books of reference. The people of Barbourville are invited to use these books.

In considering future building operations, why not figure on a more extensive use of brick? We have two excellent brick plants and the cost is not so much greater. Then, the matter of heating and insurance will cut quite a figure. A brick house does not have to be everlastingly painted and will outlast the frame or wooden building by many years. The chief cause of fire in the United States is wood houses. That is why our insurance is so high. We pay the difference between brick and wood house destruction.

TRANSYLVANIA TO START CAMPAIGN

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 23.—An impression seems to have been created that Transylvania College is to make a campaign for funds for the endowment of the school independently of other church movements. This is not correct, but Transylvania is preparing to start shortly a campaign in connection with the Inter-Church World Movement, which it is hoped will result in getting for it the needed endowment to enable the institution to carry on its work in a manner worthy of the traditions of such a school.

NEWS FROM OUTSIDE

Elizabeth Ford Griffith, 17 years of age, an attendant at the office of Dr. Christopher G. Schott, Louisville Ky., was found dead in the doctor's consulting room at about 3 o'clock on December 24th. A pistol of the army large calibre type had been used to commit the deed. The police believe that the girl was probably murdered as they claim the revolver was too heavy for the girl to use without leaving marks on her clothing. The wound was inflicted in the left breast. Miss Griffith was engaged to be married in a few days to Capt. George K. Jordan, of the U. S. Army. The pistol was the property of Dr. Schott.

Lexington, Ky.—While talking to the wife of James S. Thomason, travelling salesman, the latter, who had been making purchases, approached James Welch, of Fayette County and demanded to know why he was talking with his wife. Welch states that Thomason then drew a knife without giving him a chance to reply and he then fired six shots into the latter's body. Thomason's wife and two little children were seated in an auto at the time of the shooting.

NEW YORK STORE Appreciates the Patronage of Our People

Sam Cawn, of the New York Store, asks us to express thru the Mountain Advocate, the warm appreciation of the owners of the New York Store, of the splendid patronage given them by the citizens of Knox County generally.

Mr. M. Sherman, one of the firm, has gone to Baltimore to purchase spring supplies and a varied and up-to-date stock will result.

Watch the Advocate for further notice.

WILL IT BE PERSHING?

We are in receipt of literature asking what we think of General Pershing for President? Well, if he tackles the job with the same bunch of dough-boys who followed him in France, the chances are that he will be hoisted on the Republican elephant's back. Politics, however, is a game that requires lots of strategy of a different order to that of planning a battle and with the large assortment of brainy men who are in the race urging their claims, it is a question who will be chosen as Republican leader.

The Mountain Advocate comes to your home each week for $1.50 a year.

CULLING OUT THE DEAD WEIGHTS

The Republican Congress has started a drive to eliminate about 40,000 of the more than 100,000 clerks on the Government payroll in Washington—107,000 to be correct. This is 80,000 more Government employees in the National Capitol than were on the payroll under the Republican regime, and taking the average yearly salary at $1200, it represents an expenditure for clerk hire, etc., of $100,000,000 annually in excess of the record under the Republican Administration, which was scored by the Democratic platform of 1912 for draining the substance of the American people by maintaining an unconscionable payroll. The Republican drive, if successful, will save the country around $50,000,000 annually on this item. It may knock out the "simplicity and economy" of the Wilson era, but who cares?

CIVIC LEAGUE MEETING

The Civic League will meet at the home of Mrs. W. B. Minton on College Street next Thursday, January 15, at 2:30 o'clock.

THE PREACHERS SALARY

Quite a number of our churches have sufficient religion in their make up to see to it that the minister receives his salary. The women are generally the leaders in real church work but the men have usually a keen enough sense of justice to write a check so that the minister may pay his debts and thus be able to look the whole world in the face.

However, there exist churches whose people are pleased to call themselves Christians and whose little boys and girls are sent religiously to Sunday School so that they may grow up and be a credit to the parents who are so everlastingly tight that they will let the minister and his family live on cold water and sky shavings and piously call themselves members of their particular church.

Dead branches, every one of them, even while they live. Men and women who accept the ministrations of a man who, were he to turn to other pursuits, might make several fold the salary he receives as a preacher, and yet fail to live up to their promises to support him and the church, should call to mind what happened to Ananias and Sapphira when they were convicted of holding back a portion of what they had promised to give.

Preachers are used to comparative poverty, (flocks have seen to that) but no man who is acting as the minister of a bunch of church people should be deprived of one cent of his salary thru stinginess. We cannot take it with us and what the majority gives won't hurt.

That's right! Write your check and vow, never again will I forget

The total assessment of Harlan County foots up to $15,000,000 an increase of $4,500,000 over last year.

NOTICE

Effective January 1, 1920

It becomes necessary for me in the future to make a small charge for my professional services in the Scientific Examination of eyes.

When I came to Barbourville an examination was conducted free as an inducement for people to visit my office and have those suffering from eye trouble witness my method and discover for themselves whether I was a professional or a fakir. The number of patients I have had is sufficient proof that the people have rightly placed me in the professional class.

I also wish to announce that I came here solely to practice Optometry legitimately and now I am compelled to charge a reasonable fee for my services to sustain my practice and the good will of the people. Yours for better eyesight,

J. Effron, O. D. Graduate Optometrist and Optician.

Anyone having rooms, furnished or unfurnished, for rent is asked to list them at the Mountain Advocate or the office Union College. A large number of students are expected and it is desired that they be provided with rooms as soon as possible.

Putting it off today won't get it done tomorrow. An advertisement in this paper today will bring business tomorrow.

POULTRY NOTES

Guineas, like geese and pigeons, pair when the number of males and females is equal.

The turkey does not fully mature until two years old, and is at its best at three years.

Sometimes the old hens of the heavy breeds will not need fattening, as they have a tendency to take on fat with age.

The poultry house should have no draughts; it should be clean and kept clean and no damp floors should be tolerated.

A fowl consumes about three ounces of mash in the morning, two ounces of grain at noon, and four ounces of grain at the evening feed.

Proper equipment in the poultry-house often is the deciding factor in successful poultry keeping and should be given due consideration.

Hens lay best in damp weather, even during winter. It will be noticed that they are more prolific during showery spells than they are when it is dry. The theory is that moisture produces expansion and growth, whereas dry, cold or dry warmth contracts.

TIME FOR PLANTING BEANS

Wait Until Ground is Fairly Warm and All Danger of Frost is Past —Plant in Rows.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Beans should not be planted until the ground is fairly warm and all danger of frost is past. The bunch beans may be planted in rows 30 inches apart and four or five seeds in a hill, with the hills 12 inches apart in the row. The seed may be drilled in the row, but the crop is easier to hoe and cultivate if planted in hills. One quart of seed of the bunch or snap beans will plant 600 to 800 feet of row. Do not cover the seed too deeply, especially if there is plenty of moisture in the soil. One to two inches is about the proper depth, dependent upon the character and condition of the soil.

SMUDGE SAVES POTATO CROP

"Smoke Screen" Successfully Applied to Field of Tubers in Hardin County, Ohio.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A member of the farm bureau in Hardin county, Ohio, saved a 20-acre field of late potatoes from frost last fall by the use of a smudge. The potatoes had made practically no growth during July and August because of dry weather, but were maturing in good shape when, on the night of September 21, the temperature dropped below the freezing point. Preparations had been made for just such an emergency. Baled straw had been placed in readiness, and at 10:30 that night the fires were started. It was found that a heavy smoke could be made by using wet straw after the flame had been applied. Fires were kept burning in 102 places, and it is estimated that ten tons of straw were used. The entire field was kept covered with smoke, and after the sun had been up a few hours the following day it was plain that the potatoes had been saved. The potatoes remained green until October

THE MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE

THIS CITY BUILT WHILE YOU WAIT

Fourth Largest Town in Alabama
Full Grown in One Year.

HAD A MODEL GOVERNMENT

Permanent Settlement Around
U. S. Nitrate Plant Presented
Unusual Problems.

By GARRET SMITH.

The fourth largest city in Alabama, peopled with 25,000 souls of diverse races and religions, sprang from the scattered communities in every part of the United States and Canada sprang into being almost overnight around the great new government ammonium nitrate plant down on the open cotton and corn fields at Muscle Shoals on the Tennessee River during the last year of the World War. Here was a problem in city building, municipal government and community welfare that has seldom been equaled and the success of its solution has never been equaled.

The job was in the hands of the Air Nitrates Corporation which had been organized under the direction of the Ordnance Department to build plant and city at Muscle Shoals. Early in January, 1918, this new town had a few temporary buildings and a population of 200. This had jumped by the middle of August to more than 21,000. A population multiplied by 70 in 7 months.

In the management of the new towns and army cantonments that sprang up during the war the old-time evils that attended the growth of mushroom cities have been avoided by the application of modern welfare systems. But nowhere were conditions more difficult than at Muscle Shoals. Here was a material region threatened at the same time with other deadly disease epidemics. Transportation was lacking. No nearby labor was available and the general labor shortage was at its most acute stage. Cost of labor and supplies were being overpaid. Furthermore, Muscle Shoals differed from all the other new war towns inasmuch as it was to be permanent.

New Government Devised.

The military, besides city government, had to handle the entire retail business of the town. A camp supervisor's department was put in charge of the administration of all buildings, fire protection and sanitation. The camp supervisor looked after everything from the building of a lock to the remodeling of groups of buildings or buying new furniture and stoves. For the health of the town a commissary department was necessary.

The commissary department housed the stores, restaurants, picture theaters, pool halls, barber shops, dry cleaning establishments, barber shops, shoe stores, a hotel, a vegetable farm and a large barn where 1500 pigs were raised on the wastes from eating places. It contained a slaughter house where the hogs were put through the regular packing house course. It operated a laundry which cleaned 7500 pieces a day. Then there was a red-light department that rented and managed the family quarters and a hospital department which ministered to sicknesses everywhere excepting the hospitals.

Under military jurisdiction from its commissary director were the police.

The health department, in charge of a physician from New York city, started with a small office in one of the temporary buildings and was soon full of cases and splendidly equipped. Conditions were favorable to disease. The winter was the season of record in northern Alabama. The men were compelled to work early in the morning and late in the evening. As a result a pneumonia epidemic developed among the Negroes that spring. Later in the year a typhoid epidemic was threatened. Moreover, the site of the plant was in the heart of the malarial district. But the pneumonia epidemic was checked, the typhoid threat slipped in the bud, and malaria slunk off.

A Health Record Established.

The little hospital hospital presently grew to a complete modern institution with a hospital home and a separate dispensary for dental, eye, ear, nose and throat ailments and a dispensary for first-aid.

During the eight months when the death rate was not affected by the influenza and pneumonia epidemics the general health rate was 124 per thousand per year, which is lower than in most cities in the same latitude and climate, and the pneumonia death rate during the epidemic was lower than in most army cantonments.

Much of the success of the health administration is due to the establishment of the Muscle Shoals sanitary district by the United States Public Health Service.

The education and welfare department also had a vital work to perform. There was a school population of over 1000. The secretary of War created the community organization branch of the Ordnance Department which, with advice and aid of some of the greatest school men of the country, prescribed the course of study and recruited teachers from the best established systems.

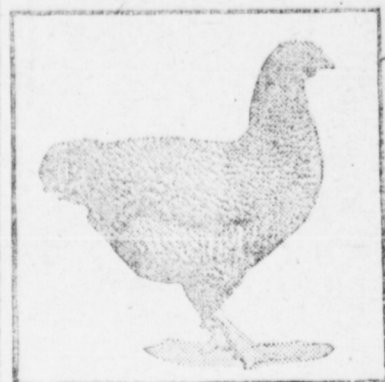

FARM POULTRY

EARLY HATCHING IS FAVORED

Poultryman Enabled to Get Chicks Started Before Hot Weather—Rapid Gains Incurred.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In order to have eggs when eggs are scarce begin operations in early spring to plan for early-hatched chicks. Early hatching enables the poultryman to get his chicks started before hot weather, which retards their growth and which, with the presence of flies, causes millions of late-hatched chicks to die each year. Poultry hatched early produce eggs in the fall when hens are molting. Early-hatched cockerels bring the best prices and early layers will brood early the following spring.

Early-Hatched Pullets—Mature and Laying on September 26.

Contrary to general belief chicks do not grow so fast as well during warm months or hot summer days as they do earlier in the spring. Chicks hatched early are stronger, thrive better and have the advantage of a longer growing season. Early hatching not only insures more rapid gains in the growth of chicks but has a favorable influence on the size of the individuals of the flock. Late-hatched chicks vary, if ever attain the size of those hatched early.

Given the same feed, care and attention, chicks hatched in March and April will weigh more when they are four months old than those hatched in May and June. The early-hatched chick, having the advantage of a more favorable growing season, makes greater gains during the first four months of its life than the late-hatched chick. During the early spring months when the temperature is not so varied the growth of chicks is more uniform and constant than it is during the summer. If for no other reason chicks should be hatched early so their growth will not be interrupted by the presence of flies, which are much more plentiful and destructive in hot weather than in the cooler days of spring.

Many farmers and poultrymen realize considerable money each spring from the sale of broilers, the price of which is usually governed by their size when sold and the time marketed. Thus it would seem that in order to increase the amount of money from the sale of broilers and fryers early hatching would be employed so as to have a marketable-sized fowl early in the spring when prices are highest.

WASHING WILL HELP DECAY

Many Eggs Are Spoiled Each Year Because They Have Become Wet Before Reaching Market.

It is estimated that more than 5,000,000 eggs are spoiled every year because they have been washed or in some way have become wet before reaching market. The shell of an egg contains a gelatinous substance which prevents air and germs from entering the egg. Washing destroys this substance and promotes decay.

POULTRY NOTES

A system of cleanliness in poultry raising is desirable.

Hens must have things to eat that contain egg-making elements.

The hen as a rule is a better sitter than the pullet for the incubation of eggs.

When mites, lice, ticks, fleas, etc., once get a start they are very troublesome.

Egg testers are to be easily had from manufacturers and dealers in poultry supplies.

To successfully hatch chicks great care should be exercised in the selection of the sitting hen. Any old hen seldom does in these matters.

There are four common breeds of geese, the Toulouse, African, Embury and the White China. Of these the Toulouse is the most popular and most generally raised.

Y. W. C. A. CALLS BIG CONVENTION

2,000 Women Expected to Gather in Cleveland the Week of April 13-20, 1920, for National Convention.

MEETING POSTPONED TWO YEARS BY WAR

Delegates Will Discuss New Membership Basis for Students and Question of Future Support for Work. Many Other Things.

The Young Women's Christian Association of the United States of America will meet in national convention in Cleveland, O., the week of April 13 to 20, having postponed the convention from the spring of 1918 in order to comply with a government request that expense and travel be reduced to a minimum during the war.

The department on conventions and conferences of the National Y. W. C. A., of which Mrs. Harry Emerson Fosdick is chairman, estimates an attendance of 2,000 women, representing all departments of Y. W. C. A. work—board members, secretaries, students, club girls, Girl Reserves, girls from Industrial Service Centers, women from the International Institutes for foreign born women, members from city, town and country Associations.

Each Association in the United States will be entitled to one voting delegate for every one hundred voting members in the Association.

Two of the most important questions which will come up before the convention will be the membership basis and the question of support. Of old business to be considered the most important question will be the membership basis for student associations, the granting of charter membership privilege to the Chicago Young Women's Christian Association and a recommendation providing an increase in membership of the National Board of the Association will also be presented.

Rev. Charles W. Gilkey, pastor of Hyde Park Baptist Church, Chicago, will give a series of morning addresses during the convention week. Dr. Robert E. Speer, secretary to the Foreign Mission Board of the Presbyterian Church, North, will also give an address. Mrs. Speer is chairman of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A.

The convention will be in session morning and evening, the afternoon being given over to sectional meetings held in various churches. Attendance at these meetings will be determined by group membership and also by activities.

Mrs. W. P. Harford of Omaha, Neb., will preside at the opening session having been elected as president at the last convention of the Young Women's Christian Association, held in Los Angeles in 1915.

The committee on business to co-operate before the convention has for its chairwoman Mrs. John French and includes among its members Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Miss Eliza Butler, sister of Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University; Miss Martha McCook, Miss Mabel Cratty, general secretary for the National Board of the Y. W. C. A., and Mrs. Will Ham Adams Brown, all of New York city.

TOWN GIRLS TO HAVE Y. W. C. A.

Association Maintains 52 Town Secretaries—Wants to Expand Work at Once.

"During the war girls all over the world had their first lesson in nation wide and world wide thinking," says Miss Mabel Reed, director of Town and Country Work for the National Y. W. C. A.

"Girls learned something of the importance of working with hundreds and thousands of other girls, in selfishly and unsuitably through Red Cross work. Now the Y. W. C. A. through its world wide program of service for women, is planning to expand its work so that girls all over the world, and particularly in smaller communities, will not lose this experience."

"Citizenship forums are being organized for girls in small communities, where girls may come together to learn more about their country and their responsibility to it and as citizens of the world."

"Reading courses have been planned at National Headquarters in New York so that a girl in any community may carry on a course of study, either by herself or with other girls, on a wide variety of subjects."

"The Y. W. C. A. has at present thirty-nine secretaries doing county work. This means that they travel about from one community to another helping girls to plan out social, recreational, educational and religious activities for themselves and organizing them to carry on these activities. These secretaries work with the county agents of the Department of Agriculture in carrying on home economics work. They help plan pageants, arrange benefits, assist the girls in going to Y. W. C. A. summer conferences and help plan all sorts of social good times for the community."

LET US KEEP CLEAN STREETS

Taken by and large we are a people with excellent clean instincts. There are many cities that are not as tidy in appearance, but that does not mean that we have attained to what we might if we would do a little more.

Trash boxes are allowed to overflow and scatter their contents on the streets. These should be attended to more regularly and the contents burned or carried away.

Some kind of brush sweeping apparatus should be installed on the paved streets and they should be given the once over every so often.

The Public Square, which is one of the first places seen by the visitor or one who is looking around from a business standpoint, should be kept free of all loose paper and refuse.

Then, there are a great number of old barns over the city that have outlived their usefulness and which detract from the beauty of the homes and general landscape. These should be torn down and all future outhouses should be built of brick with the idea of later turning them into garages if so desired.

This is a school town and while appearances are said to be deceitful, they are certainly impressive.

We shall soon be a part of the Dixie Highway and that means that thousands of visitors will come here annually. Lets us make the town so attractive that some of these will come back. It can and has been done by many cities.

Cleanliness is next to godliness.

The ladies of the Civic League have been rather circumscribed during the past year on account of the streets being so badly torn up during paving operations that they have not been able to do much, but everybody can help in a campaign of cleanliness and tidiness if he will. Let's!

LABOR STILL WORKING ON FARMERS

Organized labor recently made another attempt to line up the organized farmers for the forthcoming political battle. The attempt was made in Washington, D. C., by the "co-operation committees" of the American Federation of Labor, meeting with representatives of the several groups of farmers. The effort is being made by organized labor to line up the farmers for labor's program. Perhaps some of them will accept the invitation but the majority of the farmers of the country have again and again stated their position on this matter.

Farmers know no hours. They work early and late. They work until the work is completed. If their crops are a failure they swallow their medicine. They don't lay down and quit. They go ahead and plant for the next crop with the hope that it will turn out better. If the market price means a loss, as it did in the case of wheat upon which the price was fixed by the government during the war, they don't put up a howl and strike. The farmers are patriotic in peace as well as war times and they firmly believe that the limit has been reached by organized labor in the program of "minimum of working hours and maximum of pay."

AMERICAN HORSES MAKE BAD SHOWING

GREAT WAR FOUND US POORLY
PREPARED IN ARTILLERY
ANIMALS.

QUALITY OF BLOOD COUNTS

French Army Furnished the Thorough-breeds that Enabled Our Guns to Step Ludendorff's Drive Toward
Paris and Victory.

If, after seventy-five years of exhaustive and convincing experimentation, a work that had cost the great military powers of Continental Europe
—Russia, Austria, Hungary, the German Empire, France and Italy—in the aggregate a number of $100,000,000 or $200,000,000, additional proof of the superlative value of thoroughbred blood in the artillery horse and the comparative worthlessness of cold-blood that was supplied by the experience of the Second Division of the American Expeditionary Force in the summer of 1918. The Second Division was the division in which the famous Marine Corps was brigaded.
The Second was one of the best equipped of the American grand units as regards horses. The cream of the regular army's artillery in its artillery
and transport departments.

In June, 1918, the Second Division was ordered from a quiet sector of the western front near Verdun to the western end of the great Marne salient
the German offensive of March to June had created in the French line.
Foch had sensed the impending Ludendorff thrust that was to win Paris and a victorious peace, and he was assembling all his available soldiers to meet it. The carrying out of this order by the Second Division involved a march of less than 100 miles, 97 to be exact. Yet 99 per cent of the cold-blooded horses of the artillery brigade succumbed to the rigors of this marshal march without having come under gunfire. Upward of half the horses that dropped out of line were so completely done up they were unfit to be sent to base stations for recuperation
with the ultimate object of returning to service.

The French divisions that accompanied the American divisions on this march lost no more than five per cent of their horses. But the French artillery, cavalry and transport horses
were half and three-quarter breeds,
the product of a system of breeding that had been established by a far-sighted government sixty or seventy years before the outbreak of the great war.

Second Division Suffers.

Because of the collapse of its horse equipment and artillery brigade of the Second Division did not reach its objective until a day after the great struggle that was to terminate in the victorious advance of the German army
for an advance in October had begun.
The Second Division fought the first day without artillery protection and suffered accordingly in consequence.
The artillery brigade reached the zone of conflict late in the second day and was engaged in the part in the series of actions that completely deranged Ludendorff's ambitious plan of conquest and put the great German army on the defensive only because American remount officers were able to re-equip
it from the surplus horse supply of the French army with half and three-quarter breeds. The French were in a position to furnish these indispensable animals because up to the beginning of March the war had been a war of position rather than a war of movement, and no great demand had been made on the artillery and cavalry
horse resources of the French army.

When the great war came to its unexpected end the United States had under arms at home and abroad,
some 270,000 soldiers, of which 974,000 were infantry, 234,000 were engineers, 283,000 were field artillery, but only 21,000 were cavalry. The field artillery was horsed after a fashion. So was the engineer contingent.
But the quality of the horses that served the artillery and the engineer contingents generally was no better, if indeed it was as good, than was the quality of the horses that failed
the artillery brigade of the Second Division in the march from Verdun to the Marne salient.

Our Cavalry Not There.

For such masses of infantry and artillery, there would have been 250, 000 to 300,000 cavalry, according to the most advanced military opinion in the United States and abroad. Yet only an insignificant fraction of the abnormally small mounted contingent of the United States was established on the United States on November 1st, 1918—
the second, third, sixth and fifteenth cavalry regiments—was in France.
Most of our 21,000 troopers were pastrolling the Mexican frontier. Moreover only a minority of the so-called American cavalry forces in France was mounted. At no time was it possible to completely horse the second,
third, sixth and fifteenth regiments.
The troopers of these regiments, when they were not serving with machine-gun contingents, were guarding munition and quartermaster's stores. This condition was due to the disgraceful fact that the United States had no suitable mounts for its cavalry, France and Great Britain, to insure prompt and effective cooperation by the American grand units in the great counter-offensive of Foch might spare serviceable artillery horses of the half and three-quarter bred types because,
as had already been pointed out, the struggle for civilization up to the beginning of 1918 on the western front had been for the most part a war of position rather than one of maneuver.
Their reserves of artillery horses had not been exhausted. But neither France nor Great Britain felt disposed to spare the cavalry of an

KING NEWS

December 28, 1919

At present writing it is so cold it is doubtful whether a fellow could think of things which have happened outside. Now isn't it hard to get your mind off the fire?

Logan Gap school closed Friday with a large crowd and a very interesting program. Everyone seems to think that thru the wise and efficient management of the teacher the school has been a success this year.

E. G. Mays and R. B. McNeil of this place, spent Christmas and the week-end at Corbin and Pineville.
Both returned reporting a very enjoyable time.

The Christmas tree at Mackey Bend which marked the close of the school year, was a grand success.
The program was a little long but this was over-balanced by its interesting features. It showed the result of practice as well as some real brain work. The tree was hanging full from top to bottom, with presents and greetings for both young and old. Everybody reports an exceptionally good time.

E. G. Mays, of this place will take the census for Precinct No. 16. Now get busy and know what you have grown on your farm as well as look up the ages of your children, your father and mother and think a minute and see if you know your own age. All of this in regard to January 1st, 1920.

John Logan has sold his farm to Tom Pritchard and has moved to Bell County near Pineville.

R. B. McNeil will begin January 2nd taking the census for the Wilson Precinct.

Mrs. Tom Parlin, of Swan Lake,
was the guest of Mrs. W. E. Warfield Saturday and Sunday.

Testimony of a Kentucky Woman

Louisville, Ky.—"Some time ago I was in a badly run-down condition. I had no energy whatever, was nervous and lost my appetite. I knew I was in need of a tonic and decided to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which had been recommended very highly. The first bottle helped me so much that I kept on with it until I had taken the fourth bottle when I was completely restored to health. I certainly recommend Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery most highly to all persons in need of a tonic and laxative."—MRS. ANNA MURPHY, 1603

Stomach Trouble Indigestion—Nervous—Sleepless

West Frankfort, Ky.—"For many years
I suffered with stomach trouble; my food would not digest, it would sour on my stomach and gas would form and cause me to be distressed and cramped until I would be almost bent double with pain. I was extremely nervous could not eat or sleep and was suffering a physical wreck when I was advised to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It soon relieved me of my stomach trouble and built me up in health and strength. 'Golden Medical Discovery' did wonders for me and I am glad to give it a testimonial."—MRS. MARIA

Out of accumulated capital have arisen all the successes

The Successful Farmer Raises Bigger Crops

and cuts down costs by investment in labor-saving machinery.

Good prices for the farmers' crops encourage new investment, more production and greater prosperity.

But the success of agriculture depends on the growth of railroads—the modern beasts of burden that haul the crops, to the world's markets.

The railroads—like the farms—increase their output and cut down unit costs by the constant investment of new capital.

With fair prices for the work they do,
the railroads are able to attract new capital
for expanding their facilities.

Rates high enough to yield a fair return will insure railroad growth, and prevent costly traffic congestion, which invariably results in poorer service at higher cost.

National wealth can increase only as our railroads grow.

Poor railroad service is dear at any price. No growing country can long pay the price of inadequate transportation facilities.

FLAT LICK NEWS

School closed December 19th with a big entertainment given by Professor Jess Carnes and Nina Gray. This shows that the teachers took a great interest in the children which should be appreciated by their parents. If the people of Flat Lick would pull together they could have good schools and churches as well as their neighbor towns. Let's all get together and get busy.

D. W. Slusher, County Court
Clerk, and family visited Mrs.
Slusher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.

A very serious accident happened in our town on Christmas Day. Two hitting one of them in the stomach.

G. G. Hammonds, one of our lead-business man and on the job all the time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Bargo, of Barbourville, took a turkey supper with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bargo and spent Christmas with Mrs. Bargo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Carnes
where they had a family reunion
and everything to eat imaginable.

Webster Slusher, of Barbourville, son of the County Court Clerk, visited his grandparents Mr. and Mrs.
W. M. Bargo during Christmas and said he wished Christmas was about thirteen months long.

Miss Edna Kinningham, former teacher of Himyar, has accepted a position as saleslady with Slusher Mercantile Company.

Mrs. Ed Mackey, of Wallins
Creek, visited her grandfather, W.
M. Stewart, of this place.

Quite a number of the children
here expect to attend school at Bar-

Pale Children Need Gude's Pepto-Mangan

Unnatural for Children to be Pale and Thin—Paleness is Sign
of Thin, Watery Blood

Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood

Prepared in Liquid and Tablet
Form—Both possess Identical
Medicinal Qualities

It is necessary for boys and girls
to laugh, romp, play and enjoy themselves, for it is at that stage of life
that the foundation is laid for future health.

Prompt attention should be given to the child who seldom laughs, whose physical condition prevents playing like the other children, whose appetite is poor, and who tires easily.

If the lassitude is due to poor
blood, which is often the case, a simple, safe, and pleasant remedy is within easy reach. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is just the tonic for pale, thin children. Gude's Pepto-Mangan contains the very ingredients
that increase and enrich the blood, enabling it to supply the entire body with the sorely needed vigor, strength and vitality—that make happy, romping children.

For the convenience of the public Pepto-Mangan is prepared in tablet as well as liquid form. Both forms possess exactly the same medicinal properties.

When you ask the druggist for Pepto-Mangan, look for the name
"Gude's" on the package. If it is not there it is not Pepto-Mangan.

BIG ARMY TO BE DEFEATED

Washington, Dec. 25.—Chairman
Wadsworth, of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, predicts that Congress will authorize a regular army of about 280,000 men instead of 575,000 as recommended by the War Department. Opinion in both the Senate and the House appears to be overwhelmingly against the large army advocated by Secretary
Baker and General March. Republicans are sustained in their views
by the testimony of Gen. Pershing, Gen. Wood and other military experts.
